The light serpentine movement of road and buildings is responds to the curves of the river. The border between the road and the housing area is accentuated by a low brick wall, setting off the slight difference in height, and keeping parked cars out of sight. The parking area and private road on the site is made from cobble stones, traditionally used on quay sides. Stately yew cones in gravel give a distinct green character to the parking and entrance area. The colour of the ground is light, making a pleasant contrast with the dark buildings. The border between gravel and plantings makes a denser curve. Behind this curve, the atmosphere becomes more garden-like. Towards the river there are two enormous roof gardens on top of the parking garage are created. The gardens are referring to the stream of the river, combined with low flowering plants. Open view towards the river is being preserved. Very slender poplars, loosely planted, are embedding the complex into the "riverscape".

公寓区蜿蜒的小路仿佛河面上的水波一样。道路和住宅区之间隔着一道低矮的砖墙。砖墙的高矮略有区别，挡住了里面停着的汽车。停车场和私人道路由鹅卵石铺成，位于码头的一侧。生长在碎石中间的那些笔直的紫杉树为停车场和小区入口增添了一抹独特的绿意。地面的颜色浅色的，和建筑的深色形成了鲜明对比。碎石路和花圃之间形成了一道郁郁葱葱的弧形。在弧形后面的氛围更像是一个花园。河畔的车库上有两个巨大的屋顶花园。花园的设计模仿了河水的流动，种植了许多低矮花草，并不会遮住河面的风景。稀稀疏疏的细长白杨树环绕着整个小区，使其形成了一个"河畔景观"。
